COMMITTEE ORDERS FALL TO TESTIFY

PHYSICIANS OF PROBERS FIND HIM WELL ABLE

Chairman of Committee Orders Him Before Body at 10 o'clock Tomorrow

ORDER IS SENT OUT
Action Taken After Special Committee Examines Him in Sick Room

MAY NOT EMPLOY HIM
Washington, Feb. 1.—Indications were given at the White House today that Thomas W. Gregory, former Attorney General, would not be employed as special counsel in the oil land lease cases in view of the testimony today of E. L. Dohney before the senate oil committee. A formal statement issued at the White House said that such employment "might be an embarrassment to Mr. Gregory and perhaps otherwise would be improper."

DIRECT ANNULMENT
Washington, Feb. 1.—Without debate the house today passed the Walsh resolution already approved by the senate directing the president to bring about cancellation of the Dohney and Sinclair naval oil leases. Representative Longworth, the Republican leader, urging that there be no show of partisanship with the former president near death, asked that debate be limited to 30 minutes. Rep. Howard, Democrat, Nebraska, suggested that the house proceed immediately to the vote, a suggestion that was accepted. The vote was 120 to 4. The leaders agreed to forego debate in deference to Woodrow Wilson.

Washington, Feb. 1.—Albert B. Fall, former Secretary of the Interior, is in condition to appear for examination in the senate oil inquiry, the investigating committee was told today by the special medical commission appointed to examine him.

Chairman Lenroot announced that on the basis of the report a new subpoena would be issued for Mr. Fall requiring his presence before the committee at 10 a. m. tomorrow.

Attacks Daniels.
A sharp attack on Josephus Daniels was made by Mr. Dohney in discussing the policies of the former Navy secretary in refusing to lease the reserves.

"Mr. Daniels knew there were big companies on the outside taking oil," he said, "and that to lease the lands would prevent them taking it out."

"Do you think he was protecting the big companies?" asked the big companies.

"That's what I said—take it or leave it just as you please," returned Dohney.

"Just what company do you believe Secretary Daniels was trying to protect?"

"The Standard Oil company. He never interfered with them taking oil out just as fast as it would come."

Note Presented.
A note from which the signatures had been torn was presented to the senate committee by Mr. Dohney when the committee reopened its hearing as evidence of the loan to Mr. Fall. It was dated at Washington, Nov. 30, 1921, and was made payable on demand. Mr. Dohney said that he believed it to be the handwriting of the former interior secretary.

Explaining the absence of the signatures Mr. Dohney said he and Mrs. Dohney had agreed to "tear it in half, each to retain a part," so that collection would not be forced by an executor in the case of himself and Mrs. Dohney. He said the loan was "an accommodation one" and it was not desired that its collection be forced. The witness said that Mrs. Dohney had retained the signature and had had the signature part. He added that a check had been made for the part bearing the signature but it could not be found.

DENBY ATTACK RESUMED

Washington, Feb. 1.—Simultaneously with the report of specially appointed physicians that there is no reason why Albert B. Fall should not appear before the senate oil committee to tell more about the leasing of naval oil reserves the assault was renewed in the senate today on Secretary Denby, whose resignation has been demanded by Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic leader.

CHAMP CORN TO BE DISPLAYED BY N. P. ROAD

Will Be Placed on Display Before Thousands in St. Paul Union Station

Championship corn of North Dakota will go on exhibit before the thousands of people that stream through the Union Station in St. Paul, many of them on their way to prospective locations in the Northwest. George Will, chairman of the corn show committee, announced today that the Northern Pacific Railway immigration and development department desired to take part of the state corn show exhibit for this purpose. The railroad also desires an exhibit for their general offices. Another portion of the exhibit will be turned over to Commissioner of Immigration J. M. Devine for use in his work. Still another portion will be placed in the hands of the Secretary of the state fair at Fargo, who requested it, with the understanding that the championship corn also will be exhibited at the Grand Forks fair next summer.

SCHOOL BOARDS MAY GATHER

Would Consider Means of Tax Reduction in N. D.

Grand Forks, Feb. 1.—Plans are under way for the holding of a meeting of members of the boards of education of a number of cities in North Dakota for the purpose of arriving at some means of co-operation in the maintenance of high standard schools under the present school tax levy. It is proposed to hold the meeting in Jamestown, but no city has been definitely selected for the meeting.

The Grand Forks board of education has signified its approval of such a meeting and will send a representative, it was announced Wednesday. The matter will be taken up for discussion at the next regular meeting of the local board of education to be held February 5.

It is contended that in view of the present tax levy limitation of 18 mills, the schools are finding it difficult to obtain a sufficiently large amount of money to maintain the schools. It is claimed that this is the situation at present without the bill proposed by J. G. Gunderson, president of the State Taxpayers' association, to further cut the school levy by 25 or 35 per cent.

It is contended by John Curr, president of the Jamestown board of education, that practically the only way in which the cost of the schools may be reduced is to cut the teachers' salaries.

INVESTIGATE ELECTRIC LIGHT PLANS IN CITIES

Grand Forks, N. D., Feb. 1.—Commissioners Henry O'Keefe Jr., Frank Schlager, and J. H. Solstad, left Wednesday night for Sioux Falls, S. D., to investigate the municipal electric power plant at that place. It is possible that after inspecting the plant at Sioux Falls, they may go on to Madison, S. D., and perhaps go as far south as Kansas City and St. Louis on their tour of inspection, according to Mr. Schlager. They expect to be gone about ten days.

N. D. MAN FLIES ALASKAN MAIL

Graduate of State University Secures Contract

Grand Forks, N. D., Feb. 1.—C. B. Nielson of Hutton, a graduate in 1919 of the state university here, has secured the first government contract for carrying mail by airplane in interior Alaska, according to word received by H. A. Brothers, Oliver and Arthur, at the university.

Mr. Nielson went to Alaska as principal of the Fairbanks schools. During his first summer there he was instrumental in forming the Farthest North Airplane company. As aviator in the company of which he is a partner, he held several private mail contracts with mining companies, and while doing this work he traveled a distance of 12,000 miles by plane.

The government air mail route between Fairbanks and McGrath, 800 miles, can be negotiated in a little more than five hours by the new post-office department DeHavilland plane carrying 800 pounds of mail.

The old dog team method required a hundred dogs from 10 to 14 days at an expenditure of $1,022. The contract is effective beginning with February, but regular schedules will not be effective until later in the year because of the possibilities of storms at this season. The plane and an extra motor is furnished by the postoffice department. The motor is of the latest type and is used exclusively on government mail planes.

Mr. Nielson has pioneered flying in interior Alaska if not in the entire territory.

BANKERS TRY TO AID FARMER

Fargo, Feb. 1.—That the bankers of the United States are trying to coordinate the efforts of the banking fraternity in each state with the efforts of the agricultural colleges and extension workers in a nationwide plan for the betterment of agriculture was the declaration of D. H. Otis, director of the agricultural commission of the American Bankers' association, in outlining the purpose of the banker-farmer conference being held in Fargo yesterday.

The conference was opened with a formal session of the American Bankers' association from the Ninth federal reserve district, as chairman, Bankers from all parts of North Dakota, representatives of the North Dakota Agricultural college and others are in attendance.

ADMITSMURDER OF 4; CRAZED OVER DAUGHTER

Theodore Larson, Farmer, Maddened by Desire to Retain Child, Slays Wife

KILLS THREE OTHERS
Burns Bodies—Captured By Posse, He Confessed, and Will Plead Guilty

SENTENCED FOR LIFE
Grand Forks, Feb. 1.—Larson pleaded guilty and was sentenced to life imprisonment, State Penitentiary this afternoon.

Grand Forks, Feb. 1.—Theodore Larson, who killed his wife, her two sisters and a man who tried to come to their defense near Klotten late Thursday, will enter a plea of guilty to a murder charge in district court this afternoon. He was brought to Grand Forks from Klotten at noon today in company with Sheriff L. Bakke and State Attorney Swindland of Nelson county. Arrangements are being made to have him enter a plea of guilty early this afternoon. The hearing will be held before Judge C. M. Cooley.

Lakota, N. D., Feb. 1.—(By the A. P.)—Theodore Larson, a farmer of near Edinburg, whose mad desire to possess his four-year-old daughter, prompted him to kill his wife and three other persons here yesterday afternoon confessed to the killing and was charged with first degree murder at a preliminary hearing held here late last night. State Attorney Swindland declared today.

State's Attorney Swindland said that Larson is expected to plead guilty to the charge and will be immediately sentenced to life imprisonment at the North Dakota state penitentiary.

While authorities were preparing the arraignment of Larson a coroner's jury as being unimpaired, at the Quaback farm near Klotten to view four fire charred bodies and formally determine how the victims of Larson's bullets came to their death.

Three Women Victims.
These four victims are his wife, Mrs. Nellie Larson, 32 years old; her two sisters, Helen Quaback, 36, and Emma, 27, and his brother-in-law, Gus Arneson. They were shot down when they sought to frustrate his efforts to seize and carry off his child.

After killing his victims, Larson poured kerosene over their bodies and ignited it but before they had been consumed beyond recognition neighbors extinguished the flames. Larson who fled with his 4-year-old daughter Thelma on horseback to his father's farm three miles distant was disarmed without a struggle and held until a posse of 25 men arrived and took him to McVillie. Later he was brought to the county jail here by Sheriff Bakke.

Neighbors allege that Larson had been beating his wife who in addition to her household duties taught in a nearby school.

He is alleged to have beaten her so severely two weeks ago that medical attention was required, it was said at that time that Mrs. Larson left Edinburg and came to this county, going to Klotten where she and her daughter had remained until her husband's reappearance here yesterday.

Larson followed his wife to Klotten, it is said, brooding—meanwhile over the separation from his young daughter. It was between 3 and 4 p. m. yesterday that he appeared suddenly. (Continued on Page Two)

NEED SIGNERS ON INCREASED JURISDICTION

Petitions Probably Will Be Lacking in Sufficiency, Unless Action Is Taken

NEED 1,200 SIGNATURES
Plan Is to Have the Matter Submitted to a Vote at Election March 18

Unless some concerted action is taken by an organization or a group of individuals, it appears likely at this time that sufficient signatures to provide an election on the question of increased jurisdiction for the county court of Burleigh county will be lacking when the time comes for the county commissioners to submit the matter.

Under the resolution of the board, submitted in circulation of petitions, the matter would be submitted at the March 18 primary. Over 1,200 signatures, or 20 percent of the vote of the last election for Governor, are needed to place the question on the ballot, according to State Attorney E. S. Allen.

Many petitions have been placed in downtown hotels, and there have been some voluntary signers. The state attorney said today he would have two men circulating the petitions, but it was doubtful if there would be a sufficient number by February 5, the date of the next meeting of the board of county commissioners, and the election on March 18 probably would be necessitated.

Under increased jurisdiction the county court would be empowered to try all misdemeanor cases and civil actions involving less than $1,000. A term of court would be held each month. The commissioners favored the move on the ground that it would obviate protracted jury terms and thus save money to the county, would provide for speedier justice since court would be held each month by the county court, and would give the district court more time for the many important cases before it.

BANK OPENING RULE IS FIXED

Depositors Commission Lays Down Rules For Reopening

Requirements for the reopening of more than a score of banks were laid down here by the Guaranty Fund Commission, after a three week session. Many bankers from various parts of the state appeared before the commission to present their plans for the reorganization of the banks.

The new plan will be for them to carry out the requirements. A number of the banks are expected to resume operations within a short time.

"DOLL UP" DEVILS LAKE JAIL BUT PRISONERS REFUSE TO TAKE ADVANTAGE

Devils Lake, N. D., Feb. 1.—The city commission, especially Police Commissioner C. J. Kelly is much concerned over the fact that there are no occupants the last few weeks for the new city jail.

The significance of their worries is better understood when it is realized that the commission has gone to a great deal of expense to put the jail in excellent condition, having had it painted throughout and otherwise improved. The police commissioner considers it something of a slight against the city government's good taste that no one takes the trouble of getting arrested and securing at least for a night, a comfortable roost in the new jail.

Last night at the meeting of the commission Police Chief Tomboe said that at least 18 new mattresses were needed for the jail, as those now used are in a somewhat dilapidated condition, and do not harmonize with the otherwise aesthetic surroundings.

WHITE JUSTICE BRINGS NOOSE TO 2 ESKIMOS

Several Killed in Feud Which Followed Slaying of White Man

Edmonton, Alberta, Feb. 1.—"White man justice" will write the final chapter in an arctic feud today when two uncivilized Eskimos feel the noose of the hangman on Herschel Island, if the order of the dominion court is carried out. Alik Onak and Tetamangna of the Cooper Eskimo tribe of Prince Albert sounds were hanged for the killing of Corporal Doak of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police and Otto Binder, a white trader of Coronation Gulf. It still is spring before confirmation of the execution can be received here for the only communication with Herschel Island is by courier and the route he must travel is long and arduous but authorities here and at Ottawa expect the execution will go forward.

Testimony at the trial of the convicted man showed that Otto Binder's fancy for a young Eskimo girl, desired in marriage by a member of her tribe was the basic cause of the feud. The feud culminated in the killing of two white men—Binder and several Eskimo men and women and finally in the strangling of a four-year-old Eskimo girl who was killed after the death of her parents rather than have her left a charge on the tribe. Corporal Doak was killed when he arrested him. Counsel for the accused men did not deny the crime but contended the time was not yet ripe for trying the Eskimos in the same manner as white men holding that the uncivilized Eskimo is in the same condition as the early Briton was two years ago.

CRISIS EXPECTED DURING DAY, END NEAR, SAYS FRIEND, COMING FROM CONSULTATION AT HOME

Digestive Disorder Which Attacked Him Week Ago Is Said Cause For Serious Condition Which Has Led to Family Being Called and Other Physicians Summoned in For Consultation by Dr. Cary Grayson

BULLETIN
Washington, Feb. 1.—(By Associated Press.)—Wilson's condition unchanged at four o'clock.

SAID VERY NEAR DEATH
Washington, Feb. 1.—Personal friends, inquiring at the Wilson home, shortly after 2 p. m. today were told that the former president was very near death, but that he had awakened from a short sleep and still was conscious.

At 2:30 o'clock Mr. Wilson took a little light nourishment, although he was very weak. Dr. Grayson returned to the sick room with the intention of remaining through the day and the night.

Washington, Feb. 1.—(By the A. P.)—Woodrow Wilson is at death's door.

Wasted by months of suffering the war-time president is fighting what his physicians believe may be his last battle. After a sudden turn for the worse during the night he lay throughout the morning hours between life and death. He rallied slightly at noon and talked in whispers with those about him. In the early afternoon he seemed perhaps to be resting easier but his attendants saw little hope that the end could be delayed.

At 1 o'clock his friends and physician, Dr. Grayson, announced that the former president was asleep and that his pulse was "a trifle stronger."

A crisis may be reached before nightfall. Dr. Grayson has called in other medical advisers and Mrs. Wilson, constant companion of her husband in his protracted suffering, had summoned other members of the family to his bedside in the F street home to which he retired from the White House.

"You have done the best you could," said Mr. Wilson to Dr. Grayson just before he fell asleep. "But I'm a broken machine."

Then he added with a rally of his waning strength: "But I'm ready."

Washington, Feb. 1.—(By the A. P.)—Woodrow Wilson, war time president of the United States, lies near death in the home here that has been his place of seclusion since he left the White House.

A digestive disorder, first noticed several days ago, developed a condition during the night that was described by his physician, Rear Admiral Cary Grayson as "very serious." A crisis is believed likely before the day is over. The members of his family have been summoned by Mrs. Wilson, who is in constant attendance at the bed side. Three physicians also are in attendance and an operation may be necessary.

Dr. Grayson, in addition to the force of two nurses and an orderly already on duty, called in during the morning Dr. Kirilsk Ruffis and Dr. H. A. Fowler, both of whom helped care for Mr. Wilson while he was ill in the White House.

Aside from the physicians only a few of the former president's close friends were admitted. Vance McCormick, former chairman of the Democratic national committee, left soon after a short talk with Mr. Wilson, said that death might come today or stay its hand until tomorrow. President Coolidge was one of the first to send a message of sympathy. When he heard of the serious situation of the former president he and Mrs. Coolidge conveyed a message in which they included a prayer for recovery.

Digestive Attack
The first symptoms of the latest attack developed early this week when Mr. Wilson became prey to a digestive derangement, at first of a minor character but developing quickly into a condition that at once aroused concern.

News of the change for the worse spread rapidly throughout Washington as alarming rumors were disseminated over the whole country during the night by radio broadcasting stations. Early this morning before Dr. Grayson had issued his bulletin messages of encouragement and sympathy began arriving by the thousand.

Washington, Feb. 1.—At noon Mr. Wilson had rallied a little but there was no material change in his condition. He was fully conscious and in a faint voice talked with those at his bedside.

DAUGHTER EN ROUTE

LEAVE FOR EAST

Los Angeles, Feb. 1.—Mr. and Mrs. William G. McAdoo, son-in-law and daughter of President Wilson, who early today received their first news of the serious turn of Mr. Wilson's illness from the Associated Press, will leave without delay for Washington, it was announced.

FORMER EMPEROR ILL

Doorn, Holland, Feb. 1.—Former Emperor William of Germany is slightly ill, it is learned from a source close to his medical adviser. William's condition is causing no alarm.

FORD'S BILL VOTED OUT
Washington, Feb. 1.—The house military committee voted to report out Henry Ford for the McKeenize bill as embodied in the McKenize bill and the Madden amendment providing for duplication of the Gorgas plant which was sold to the Alabama Power company.

CRAWFORD AT VALLEY CITY
The work of the State Historical Society will be explained to Valley City, Minn., today by Crawford, curator. He also spoke this afternoon before the students of the Valley City Normal.

The State Historical Society membership has increased from about 115 to about 200 in the last several months, according to Mr. Crawford.

SENTENCED FOR LIFE
Grand Forks, Feb. 1.—Larson pleaded guilty and was sentenced to life imprisonment, State Penitentiary this afternoon.

Grand Forks, Feb. 1.—Theodore Larson, who killed his wife, her two sisters and a man who tried to come to their defense near Klotten late Thursday, will enter a plea of guilty to a murder charge in district court this afternoon. He was brought to Grand Forks from Klotten at noon today in company with Sheriff L. Bakke and State's Attorney Swinland of Nelson county. Arrangements are being made to have the bodies of the victims buried this afternoon. The hearing will be held before Judge C. M. Cooley.

Lakota, N. D., Feb. 1.—(By the A. State's Attorney Swinland declared today.

State's Attorney Swinland said that Larson is expected to plead guilty to the charge and will be immediately sentenced to life imprisonment in the North Dakota state penitentiary.

While authorities were preparing the arraignment of Larson a cornerer's jury as being impounded at the Klotten farm near Klotten to view four fire charred bodies and formally determine how the victims of Larson's bullets came to their death.

NEED SIGNERS ON INCREASED JURISDICTION

Petitions Probably Will Be Lacking in Sufficiency, Unless Action Is Taken

NEED 1,200 SIGNATURES

Plan Is to Have the Matter Submitted to a Vote at Election March 18

Unless some concerted action is taken by an organization or a group of individuals, it seems likely this time that sufficient signatures to provide an election on the question of increased jurisdiction for the county court of Burleigh county will be lacking when the time comes for the county commissioners to submit the matter.

Under the resolution of the board, authorizing circulation of petitions, the matter would be submitted at the March 18 primary. Over 1,200 signatures, or 20 percent of the vote of the last election for Governor, are needed to place the question on the ballot, according to State's Attorney E. S. Allen.

Many petitions have been placed in downtown hotels, and there have been some voluntary signers. The states attorney said today he would have two men circulating the petitions, but it was doubtful if there would be a sufficient number by February 5, the date of the next meeting of the board of county commissioners, and that a special meeting to decree the election on March 18 probably would be necessary.

Under increased jurisdiction the county court would be empowered to try all misdemeanor cases and the civil actions involving less than $1,000. A term of court would be held each month. The commissioners favored the move on the ground that it would obviate protracted jury terms and thus save money to the county, would provide for speedier justice since court would be held each month by the county court, and would give the district court more time for the many important cases before it.

Unless there is increased jurisdiction, there will be necessity for another district judge in this district soon, it is declared.

"DOLL UP" DEVILS LAKE JAIL BUT PRISONERS REFUSE TO TAKE ADVANTAGE

Devils Lake, N. D., Feb. 1.—The city commission, especially Police Commissioner C. J. Kelly is much concerned over the fact that there are no occupants the last few weeks for the new city jail.

The significance of their worries is better understood when it is realized that the commission has gone to a great deal of expense to put the jail in excellent condition, having had it painted throughout and otherwise improved. The police commissioner considers it something of a slight against the city government's good taste that no one takes the trouble of getting arrested and securing at least for a night, a comfortable room in the new jail.

Last night at the meeting of the commission Police Chief Tomboe said that at least 18 new mattresses are needed for the jail, as those now used are in a somewhat dilapidated condition, and do not harmonize with the otherwise aesthetic surroundings.

'WHITE JUSTICE' BRINGS NOOSE TO 2 ESKIMOS

Several Killed in Feud Which Followed Slaying of White Man

Edmonton, Alberta, Feb. 1.—"White man justice" will write the final chapter in an arctic feud today when two uncivilized Eskimos feel the noose of the hangman on Herschel Island, if the order of the dominion court is carried out. Aik Omsak and Tetamanna of the Cooper Eskimo tribe of Prince Albert sounds were hanged for the killing of Corporal Doak of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police and Otto Binder, a white trader of Coronation Gulf. It will be spring before confirmation of the execution can be received here for the only communication with Herschel Island is by courier and the route he must travel is long and arduous but authorities here and at Ottawa expect the execution will go forward.

Testimony at the trial of the convicted man showed that Otto Binder's fancy for a young Eskimo girl, desired in marriage by a member of her tribe was the basic cause of the feud. The feud culminated in the killing of two white men—Binder and several Eskimo men and women and finally in the strangling of a four-year-old Eskimo girl who was killed after the death of her parents rather than have her left a charge on the tribe. Corporal Doak was killed when he arrested him. Counsel for the accused men did not deny the crime but contended the time was not yet ripe for trying the Eskimos in the same manner as white men holding that the uncivilized Eskimo is in the same condition as the early Briton was two years ago.

CRISIS EXPECTED DURING DAY, END NEAR, SAYS FRIEND, COMING FROM CONSULTATION AT HOME

Digestive Disorder Which Attacked Him Week Ago Is Said Cause For Serious Condition Which Has Led to Family Being Called and Other Physicians Summoned in For Consultation by Dr. Cary Grayson

BULLETIN
Washington, Feb. 1.—(By Associated Press.)—Wilson's condition unchanged at four o'clock.

SAID VERY NEAR DEATH
Washington, Feb. 1.—Personal friends, inquiring at the Wilson home, shortly after 2 p. m. today were told that the former President was very near death, but that he had awakened from a short sleep and still was conscious.

At 2:30 o'clock Mr. Wilson took a little light nourishment, although he was very weak. Dr. Grayson returned to the sick room with the intention of remaining through the day and the night.

Washington, Feb. 1.—(By the A. P.)—Woodrow Wilson is at death's door.

Wasted by months of suffering the war-time president is fighting what his physicians believe may be his last battle.

After a sudden turn for the worse during the night he lay throughout the morning hours between life and death. He rallied slightly at noon and talked in whispers with those about him. In the early afternoon he seemed perhaps to be resting easier but his attendants saw little hope that the end could be delayed.

At 1 o'clock his friends and physician, Dr. Grayson, announced that the former president was asleep and that his pulse was "a trifle stronger."

A crisis may be reached before tonight. Dr. Grayson has called in other medical advisers and Mrs. Wilson, constant companion of her husband in his protracted suffering, had summoned other members of the family to his bedside in the F street home to which he retired from the White House.

"You have done the best you could," said Mr. Wilson to Dr. Grayson just before he fell asleep. "But I'm a broken machine."

Then he added with a rally of his waning strength: "But I'm ready."

Washington, Feb. 1.—(By the A. P.)—Woodrow Wilson, war time president of the United States, lies near death in the home here that has been his place of seclusion since he left the White House.

A digestive disorder, first noticed several days ago, developed a condition during the night that was described by his physician, Rear Admiral Cary Grayson as "very serious."

A crisis is believed likely before the day is over. The members of his family have been summoned by Mrs. Wilson, who is in constant attendance at the bed side. Three physicians also are in attendance and an operation may be necessary.

LOSES CASE AGAINST SOO

Adolph Kutcher of Bismarck Cannot Get Damages

A person who undertakes a specific job of repair work, furnishing his own assistants and doing such work entirely according to his own ideas and plans, and without being subjected to the orders of anyone else as to the details of the work, is an independent contractor and not a servant, and therefore not entitled to recover for personal injuries sustained while doing such work, the supreme court decided here in the case of Adolph Kutcher against the Soo Lines Railway company.

Kutcher contracted in 1921 to overhaul and repair a gas engine mounted on a "speeder" for the Soo railway in Bismarck. He thought it advisable to try it out. While running on the railroad it jumped the track and serious injuries were caused him. He alleged. He complained that the railroad company authorized him to be the "speeder" but did not warn him of its dangerous character. The supreme court affirmed a ruling by Judge Jansons of the district court of Burleigh county who sustained a demurrer to the complaint.

FORD'S BILL VOTED OUT

Washington, Feb. 1.—The house military committee voted to report out Henry Ford's offer for Muscle Shoals as embodied in the McKenzie bill and the Madden amendment providing for duplication of the Gorgas plant which was sold to the Alabama Power company.

CRAWFORD AT VALLEY CITY

The work of the State Historical Society will be explained to Valley City business men tonight by L. F. Crawford, curator. He also spoke this afternoon before the students of the Valley City Normal.

Dr. Grayson, in addition to the force of two nurses and an orderly already on duty, called in during the morning Dr. Kirilsk Ruffis and Dr. H. A. Fowler, both of whom helped care for Mr. Wilson while he was ill in the White House.

Aside from the physicians only a few of the former president's close friends were admitted. Vance McCormick, former chairman of the Democratic national committee, leaving after a short talk with Mr. Wilson, said that death might come today or stay its hand until tomorrow. President Coolidge was one of the first to send a message of sympathy. When he heard of the serious situation of the former president he and Mrs. Coolidge conveyed a message and in which they included a prayer for recovery.

Digestive Attack
The first symptoms of the latest attack developed early this week when Mr. Wilson became prey to a digestive derangement, at first of a minor character but developing later into a condition that at once aroused concern.

News of the change for the worse spread rapidly throughout Washington as alarming rumors were disseminated over the whole country during the night by radio broadcasting stations. Early this morning before Dr. Grayson had issued his bulletin messages of encouragement and sympathy began arriving by the thousand.

Washington, Feb. 1.—At noon Mr. Wilson had rallied a little but there was no material change in his condition. He was fully conscious and in a faint voice talked with those at his bedside.

DAUGHTER EN ROUTE
New York, Feb. 1.—Miss Margaret Woodrow Wilson, daughter of the former president, left hurriedly today for Washington, according to friends living in her apartment house in Washington Square.

LEAVE FOR EAST.
Los Angeles, Feb. 1.—Mr. and Mrs. William G. McAdoo, son-in-law and daughter of President Wilson, who early today received their first news of the serious turn of Mr. Wilson's illness from the Associated Press, will leave without delay for Washington, it was announced.

FORMER EMPEROR ILL
Doorn, Holland, Feb. 1.—Former Emperor William of Germany is slightly ill, it is learned from a source close to his medical adviser. William's condition is causing no alarm.

15 MILLION SECRET BALLOTS

(The First 107,145 Votes Are Tabulated in This Week's Literary Digest)

In a Nation-wide Poll

ON

TAX REDUCTION

Do You FAVOR The MELLON PLAN?

OR

Do You OPPOSE The
MELLON PLAN?

THE LITERARY DIGEST, with the absolute impartiality which is now universally recognized as its unvarying policy, is mailing individual secret ballots to nearly 15 million men and women voters throughout the United States, that the desires and opinions of the people on this great issue may be known beyond question.

EVERY VOTE IS THE FREE, UNINFLUENCED, SECRET VERDICT OF THE VOTER, UNKNOWN TO ANYONE BUT HIMSELF OR HERSELF

THE DEMAND FOR TAX REDUCTION is the paramount issue before the country to-day. The only question in dispute is how to secure the reduction. Many plans have been proposed by various political groups or leaders, but attention has become focused upon one plan—the Mellon Plan.

The Mellon Plan reduces the taxes on all incomes in varying degrees; it provides that an earned income (salary, wages, professional services, etc.) shall not be taxed as highly as an income from stocks, bonds, etc. The so-called nuisance taxes, such as the moving-picture admission tax, the telephone tax and the telegraph tax, also are eliminated.

This measure, however, is not without strong opposition. An important fault with the plan, according to such leaders as William G. McAdoo, ex-Secretary of the Treasury, and Commander John R. Quinn of The American Legion, is that it excludes the soldiers' bonus, which they strongly believe should be paid, and which they claim can be paid without preventing some tax reduction.

On the other hand Secretary Mellon says it will be impossible to reduce taxes in this generation if we pay a bonus. President Coolidge also disapproves of a bonus in fact and principle, and has given unqualified support to the Mellon Plan.

DO YOU FAVOR THE MELLON PLAN FOR TAX REDUCTION OR NOT? Mark your Ballot and support your views.

ALL CLASSES OF VOTERS in all States and all communities in the Nation are being polled with complete impartiality. They include business men, merchants, farmers, manufacturers, railroad employees, bankers, clerks, builders, contractors, superintendents, managers, carpenters, plasterers, plumbers, painters, mechanics, printers, miners, steel-workers, workers in every trade and branch of industry, both union and non-union, professional men and women of all classes, including lawyers, doctors, clergymen, authors, actors, newspaper men, dentists, engineers, educators, architects, musicians, etc., in short, all parties and all the classes of men and women who make up the voting population in all parts of the country.

NO PROPAGANDA OF ANY KIND is connected with this great National Poll of the American people. The Literary Digest is always strictly non-partisan and impartial on all controversial questions. It records the facts and the opinions of all political parties and all classes. That is why it has come to be regarded by millions of Americans as the one representative and indispensable periodical record of all phases of American life.

INSURING AN INCOME, NEW FINANCE PLAN

Would Guarantee Principal and Interest Payments Under Financier's Idea

New York, Feb. 1. A plan for guaranteeing the principal and interest of diversified investment bonds, applicable either to individual or corporate holdings, has been evolved by leading surety companies. The plan, in effect, is an extension of the guarantees now issued covering mortgages and deeds with collateral, municipal, railroad, industrial and public utility bonds.

"There is a growing demand on the part of investors who have their funds tied up in diversified securities, to obtain some kind of a guarantee," said H. H. Towner, head of a rating bureau which worked out the details of the premium charges to be made for the service. "That guarantee, it was thought, could be given preferably through a surety instrument."

While none of the surety companies, so far as could be learned, has yet "written" any of the new form of business, all of the leading companies have notified their agents to seek such business, subject to the approval of the home offices.

An investor desiring to have the interest and principal of bonds he may own guaranteed must submit a complete list of his holdings, with the exception of United States Treasury certificates. All classes of bonds issued under the authority of the Federal Farm Loan Act, however, are included. These certificates, it was pointed out, were made to prevent an investor submitting only his weak investments, for guarantee.

The guaranteeing instruments will be written for an annual premium of not less than one-half of one percent, computed on the par value of all the approved investment bonds belonging to the person or corporation seeking the guarantee.

While the actual operation of the new form of insurance or surety bond has not yet been entirely worked out, surety companies express the belief that advantages will be taken of the guarantee by individual and corporations, that have their reserves invested in diversified securities, and by trustees of estates and guardians of minors.

Guarantees may run continuously for the lives of the various bonds included under the surety agreement, the annual premium to be computed on the annual average of investments held. This provision would permit of the replacement of bonds which may mature during the life of the instrument.

Bankers have hesitated to comment on this new form of guarantee, but they admit that it may have a far-reaching effect on the field of investment banking.

It is understood that plans have been discussed by the surety companies to extend the guarantee to entire issues offered the public by corporations, but no definite action has been taken on that phase of the matter.

CRITICISM OF KAISER BRINGS NOBLES' IRE

Author of Book Nevertheless Defends His Publication of Court Life

Berlin, Feb. 1. In spite of his ostracism by his own family and all officers of the old German army, Count Zedlitz-Trutetzky says he is still convinced that he was right in publishing his book, "Twelve Years of Life at the Kaiser's Court," which created so much excitement among families which were associated with the imperial house.

The count says he wrote the book with the intention that it be printed until 1970, and caused it to be sealed with instructions that it be held until that date. But when the former emperor and his officers, and other officers and statesmen pointed out in violation of old traditions, the count felt it was his duty to bring out his book and let it confirm or deny the statements of other men concerning the imperial period.

"I thought it was fairer to stand the story on my book might raise than to force one of my sons to do so," says the count. "Whoever reads my book without prejudice will realize that I have no desire for sensation, but simply wish to serve my country, and if possible, to make the emperor's life more understandable to the people."

To the men who boycotted him because of the book which put Hindenburg and many other prominent figures in the light of emperors, Zedlitz says: "But you, my friends, who now bar me from society, beware! The weapon you are using against me is most unethical. It may cause many in the future to be silent instead of telling the truth. Not everyone is ready, as I am, to live and die alone."

CAPITOL
"Not a Drum Was Heard," the story by Ben Ames Williams, has been adapted for the screen by William Fox and will be shown at the Capitol theater for two days, opening tonight. Charles Jones has the leading role with Betty Bonson playing opposite him. The picture was directed by William Wellman and the cast includes Frank Campeau, Rhody Hathaway, AT Freeman, William Scott and Micky McLean. The story is typical of the old west and deals with a strong friendship between two cowboys, both in love with the same girl.

THE ELTINGE
Owen Moore, one of the screen's foremost comedy and dramatic players, casts the principal role in "Thundergate," a tensity dramatic picture of Sidney Horschel. Small's novel "The Lord of Thundergate," which is showing at the Eltinge theater today and tomorrow. In this picture Moore portrays a young American engineer, whose resemblance to a Chinese lord precipitates him in a series of adventures, exciting and romantic situations and finally wins him a white wife, who was forced on him when, through circumstances, he was compelled to take the place of the real lord. Other well known film celebrities who have parts in this absorbing picture are Sylvia Breamer, Virginia Brown Faire, Robert McKim, Tully Marshall, Richard Cummings and Ynez Seabury.

"SCARAMOUCHE" IS COMING
The latest Rex Ingram production for Metro, "Scaramouche," a picture of Rafael Sabatini's novel of that name, will come to the Capitol Theatre on February 6. The cast is headed by Alice Terry, Lewis Stone and Ramon Novarro.

"Scaramouche," according to advance reports from the larger cities, where it has been played as a two dollar attraction, is one of the greatest pictures in screen history. The story is laid in the time of the French Revolution and deals with the adventures of a young noble who takes the side of the people. Willis Goldbeck made the screen adaptation and the photography was by John F. Seitz.

THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER
(Established 1873)

ELECTION LAWS REFERRED

The Governor has called for a vote on the election laws at the presidential primary on March 18, and voters of the state will have in them a matter for serious consideration and action.

The laws having been enacted by the legislature and referred to a vote of the people by filing of referendum petitions, it was proper that the chief executive should submit them to a vote at the earliest opportunity without the burden of expense of an extra election. This opportunity is the presidential primary of March 18.

The Tribune's attitude on the place of party responsibility in our system of government and its estimate of the effect of the laws in this regard is too well known for repetition at this time. As a newspaper, The Tribune will seek to lay before its readers the question and the arguments both for and against the laws so that the voters may reach their decision after mature deliberation. They are the final arbiters in this question, which is an important one, and it is to be hoped that the question will merit their most serious study.

NOT LIKELY TO SUCCEED

It is only natural that the Democrats in Washington should utilize the Teapot Dome oil inquiry as the basis for a frontal attack upon Mr. Coolidge, who has been found to wear few weak places in his political armor. It is, however, rather more convincing of his political eagerness than of his fears for the country's safety, that one reads the loose words of Cordell Hull, chairman of the Democratic National committee. Perhaps Mr. Hull depends greatly upon the short memory of the voter, whom he doubtless hopes will not contrast the war fraud scandals of the Wilson administration with the oil muddle.

President Coolidge has lost no time going to the heart of the Teapot Dome situation. There has been no hesitancy upon his part of placing the full force of the government behind the most searching investigation. He did not mince words. He merely announced he would select two eminent lawyers, one from the Republican and one from the Democratic party, to investigate with a view of bringing criminal action. Certainly there is no evidence that the President intends to fail in his duty; rather there is displayed again the incisive determination of the President to punish wrong doing.

It was, also, only natural that the Democrats in the Senate should immediately train their guns on Mr. Denby, with a view of embarrassing the President. Mr. Coolidge is in a rather trying situation. Secretary Denby is not his own cabinet appointee, but was the appointee of Mr. Harding. Doubtless he will not feel as free to act with either Mr. Denby or Mr. Daugherty as he would with his own appointees. There has been nothing produced thus far that tends to show that Mr. Denby was culpable.

The country will expect both Mr. Denby and Mr. Daugherty, however, to sacrifice themselves rather than to become a load on the shoulders of the President, should the situation proceed to a point where it appears that they are an embarrassment regardless of their culpability.

ANCIENT EGYPT

Those ancient Egyptian undertakers certainly stowed King Tut's mummy away where it was hard to reach. Months of effort, tunneling in, breaking through masonry, walls, then penetrating to the inside of an elaborate series of coffins inside coffins.

Maybe you wonder why Tut was hidden so intricately. The answer is: The Egyptians believed that the soul, after death, transmigrated into a series of lives as beasts, birds and fishes. After 3000 years, the soul was supposed to return to its original human body provided that body still remained undestroyed.

King Tut's mummy has started a lot of interest in ancient Egypt. The conversation usually winds up with the pyramids and the unanswered mystery of why these tremendous stone structures were built.

The Arabians of long ago believed that the pyramids were erected by King Saurid, before the Noah's Ark Flood, as a refuge for him, his favorites and his court records.

Josephus, writing in the year 71, said the pyramids were built by the Jews during their captivity in Egypt.

One theory is that the pyramids were constructed as observation places for astronomers. Another notion is that they were temples to various Egyptian gods, or monuments to kings.

Aristotle's theory, which has the most followers, was that the pyramids were built "to keep the people well employed and poor," because "it suits tyranny to reduce its subjects to poverty, that they may not be able to compose a guard; and that, being employed in procuring their daily bread, they may have no leisure to conspire against their tyrants."

If so, it was a sure-fire system, for Pliny recorded that it kept 860,000 slaves busy for 20 years building the Great Pyramid alone.

Modern industry reminds us, in some respects, of pyramid building.

BATTLE AGAINST LIQUOR

The battle against liquor is thousands of years old. In ancient Sparta the Helots (lowest grade of slaves) were kept beastly drunk to arouse in Spartan youths a feeling of disgust against intoxication. We find this in an ancient volume.

The best and cheapest booze cure would be to take a movie of a man, "in his cups" and show it to him when sober. It's a wonder the dry crowd have not used this idea in their propaganda, the same as "Ten Nights in a Barroom" was used in a former generation.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

"Put on your thinking caps, everybody," said the Riddle Lady. "It's going to take a lot of thinking to day to guess the new riddle I've made up."

"I'm ready!" said Nick. "So am I!" said Nancy. "So are we!" declared the Sprats and the Tuckers and the Tweddies and the Crooked Man and the Widow Grundy and the Peter Peterses and everybody.

"All right!" said the Riddle Lady. "Here we go: 'Like Jack's male beanstalk, I grow very high, And so thin that my ribs are quite plain; But I've never yet managed to quite touch the sky, Or discover the giant's domain.'"

"But I look with great ease o'er your high garden wall," I can see in your window at night, And to lean on your chimney's no effort at all, So enormously great is my height."

"At house-cleaning time in the spring of the year, I have barrels and barrels of fun, For I help with the painting and scrubbing, my dear, And I'm in much demand till it's done."

"I help to hang awnings and tack on the screen, And see to it that curtains are straight; For cleaning the wall-papers I am the means, Oh, house-cleaning time is just great!"

"And as for adventures I've many a thrill; When loudly the fire whistle blows, I rush like the wind and then bravely stand still, While the firemen climb up with the hose."

"Sometimes I have two legs and often I've four, But I boast of no muscle at all, Divided I stand when I'm set on the floor, But united I'd be sure to fall."

"Though high, I am lowly, I'd never raise my eyes To positions of honor and fame. In the world I have helped many people to rise, But they all step on me just the same."

"I'll bet you I know what it is," cried wee Willie Winkle. "Because when I run around the town at night sometimes I have to have one to reach the children's windows and tell them it's bedtime. It's a ladder." "Yes, sir!" nodded the Riddle Lady. "That's right. And you get the prize. A nice new magic ladder of your own."

INCOME TAX

STATE INCOME TAX LAW

Following is one of a series of articles covering provisions of the state income tax law prepared by the state tax department.

NO. 4.

COMPUTATION OF THE TAX
Under the amended income tax law of 1923 the rate of tax is graduated from one to six per cent. On the first $2,000 of taxable income the rate of tax is 1 percent.

On net income in excess of $2,000 above exemptions and not in excess of $4,000 the rate of tax is 2 percent.

On net income in excess of $4,000 above exemptions and not in excess of $6,000, the rate of tax is 3 percent.

On net income in excess of $6,000 above exemptions and not in excess of $8,000 the rate of tax is 4 percent.

On net income in excess of $8,000 above exemptions and not in excess of $10,000 the rate of tax is 5 percent.

On net income in excess of $10,000 above exemptions the rate of tax is 6 percent per thousand.

A single individual not the head of a family but having one person dependent upon him or her is entitled to an exemption of $1,300. In case such individual had a net taxable income amounting to $5,000, the computation of the tax would be as follows:

Net income	$5,000.00
Exemption	1,300.00
Amount of income subject to tax	4,300.00
1% on first $2,000	$20.00
2% on second $2,000	40.00
3% on $300	9.00
Total Tax	$69.00

In the case of a married individual living with husband or wife and having three children under the age of 18 years dependent upon him or under the age of 21 years in case the children are attending educational institutions, the exemption would be $2,000 for husband and wife and $300 for each additional dependent, making a total exemption of $2,900. In case such individual had a net income of $9,300 the computation of the tax would be as follows:

Total net income	$9,300.00
Exemptions	2,900.00
Amount of income subject to tax	6,400.00
1% on first $2,000	$20.00
2% on second $2,000	40.00
3% on third $2,000	60.00
4% on $400	16.00
Total Tax	$136.00

The Tangle

It was nearly a week, however, Ruth, before Jack acted as though he had forgotten what he had asked me about you. In the meantime it was very uncomfortable about our house.

He did not pay a particle of attention about little Jack, because you see I had countered his inquiries about you with inquiries about little Jack's parentage and that always brings the blood to Jack's face.

I wonder if I had a woman-friend that I would protect her as Jack does Sydney Carton. Some day he will have to tell me all about this Paula Perier's and Sydney's affair but just now there is nothing that makes him so angry as any reference to it.

In time, however, Jack began to act as though he had dismissed you and your affairs as trivial. I think in his own mind he had come to the conclusion that Harry had sent you some money and with my convenience you had kept it from his creditors. So you see where you get off with him after he finds you prowling around in my safety vault trying to deposit a nice roll of bills—that safety deposit vault in which he is not privileged to intrude.

I am so glad you have the pearl, dear, but to tell the truth I wish Karl Whitney had them—had never been so silly as to have given them to me. I do not know why I did not send them to Alice. That would have saved me a heap of trouble.

Before I come home I am going to try and see if I can buy back those pearls I sold. Then I can send the whole string back to Karl and he can give them to whom he pleases.

Of course I shall have to tell Jack that I lost them or make up some other story to account for their loss. I wonder, dear, if such foolish little mistakes as Karl's giving me this string of pearls can make such great perils in the married life of other people.

You see, everything is perfectly legitimate and all right about them. There is no other man considered in the case. The triangle is just Leslie and Jack and a string of pearl beads. It really is to laugh, dear, and yet I have a premonition that some day something is going to happen that will make me wish I had never seen them.

Dad and mother left yesterday and after I have made the purchases you wish me to make for the shop and looked up my chances of getting the pearls back, I shall leave for home. Presume I will leave tomorrow morning.

He walked down the avenue as rapidly as possible, his hands in his pockets, his head bent to the wind, no longer transported; forcing his mind to dwell on the warmth of his rooms and his bed. . . . His head ached. He'd go to the office tomorrow and write his column there. Then think things out. How was he to win such a woman? Make her sure of herself? Convert her doubts into a passionate certainty? She, with her highly technical past! Make no mistakes? If he made a precipitate ass of himself—what comparisons! . . . His warm bed . . . the complete and personal isolation of his rooms . . . he had never given even a tea to women . . . he gave his dinners in restaurants. . . . How many more blocks? The snow was thicker. He couldn't even see the arcade of Madison Square Garden, although a faint diffused radiance high in the air was no doubt the crown of lights on the Metropolitan Tower. . . . Had he made a wrong move in bolting—

His thoughts and counter-thoughts came to an abrupt end. At the corner of Thirtieth street he collided with a small figure in a fur coat and nearly knocked it over. He was for striding on with a muttered apology, when the girl caught him by the arm with a light laugh.

"Lee Claverling! What luck! Take me home."

He was looking down into the dark naughty little face of Janet Oglethorpe, granddaughter of the redoubtable Jane.

"What on earth are you doing here?" he asked stupidly.

"Perhaps I'll tell you and perhaps I won't. On second thoughts don't take me home. Take me to one of those all-night restaurants. That's just the one thing I haven't seen, and I'm hungry."

He subtly became an uncle. "I'll do nothing of the sort. You ought to be ashamed of yourself—alone in the streets at this hour of the night. It must be one o'clock. I shall take you home. I suppose you have a latch-key, but for two cents I'd ring the bell and hand you over to your mother."

"Mother went to Florida today and dad's duck hunting in South Carolina. Aunt Mollie's too deaf to hear doorbells and believes anything I tell her."

"I am astonished that your mother left you behind to your own devices."

"I wouldn't go. She's given me up—used to my devices. Besides, I've one or two on her and she doesn't dare give me away to dad. He thinks I'm a darling spoilt child. Not that I'd mind much if he didn't, but it's more convenient."

"You little wretch! I believe you've been drinking!"

"So I have! So I have! But I've got an asbestos lining and could stand another tall one. Ah! Her eyes sparkled. "Suppose you take me to your rooms—"

"I'll take you home—"

"You'll take me to one of those all-nighters—"

"I shall not—"

"Then ta! I'll go home by myself. I've had too good a time tonight to bother with old fogies."

She started up the street and Claverling hesitated but a moment. Her home was on East Sixty-fifth street. Heaven only knew what might happen to her. Moreover, although her mother was one of those women whose insatiable demand for admiration bored him, he had no more devoted friends than her father and her grandmother. Furthermore, his curiosity was roused. What had the little devil been up to?

He overtook the Oglethorpe flapper and seizing her hand drew it through his arm.

"I'll take you where you can get a sandwich," he said. "But I'll not take you to a restaurant. Too likely to meet newspaper men."

"Anything to drink?"

"Ice cream soda."

"Good Lord!"

"You needn't drink it. But you'll get nothing else. Come along or I'll pick you up and carry you to the nearest garage."

She trotted obediently beside him, a fragile dainty figure: carried limply, however, and little more distinguished than flappers of inferior origin. He led her to a rather luxurious delicatessen not far from his hotel, kept by enterprising Italians who never closed their doors. They seated them selves uncomfortably at the high counter, and the sleepy attendant served them with sandwiches, then retired to the back of the shop. He was settling himself to alert repose when Miss Oglethorpe suddenly changed her mind and ordered a chocolate ice cream soda. Then she ordered another, and she ate six sandwiches, a slice of cake and two bananas.

"Great heaven!" exclaimed Claverling. "You must have the stomach of an ostrich."

"Can eat nails and drink fire water."

"Well, you won't two years hence, and you'll look it, too."

"Oh, no! I won't. I'll marry when I'm nineteen and a half and settle down."

"I should say you were heading the other way. Where have you been tonight?"

"Donny Farren gave a party in his rooms and passed out just as he was about to take me home. I loosened his collar and put a pillow under his head, but I couldn't lift him, even to the sofa. Too fat."

"I suppose you pride yourself on being a good sport."

"Rather. If Donny'd been ill I'd have stayed with him all night, but he was dead to the world."

"You say he had a party. Why didn't some of the others take you home?"

"Ever hear about three being a crowd? Donny, naturally, was all for taking me home, and didn't show any signs of collapse till the last minute."

"But I should think that for decency's sake you'd all have gone down together."

"Lord! How old fashioned you are. I was finishing a cigarette and never thought of it." She opened a little gold mesh bag, took out a cigarette and lit it. Her cheeks were flushed under the rouge and her large black eyes glittered in her fluid little face. She was one of the beauties of the season's debutantes, but scornful of nature. Her olive complexion was thickly powdered and there was a delicate smudge of black under her lower lashes and even on her eyelids. He had never seen her quite so blatantly mad before, but then he had seen little of her since the beginning of her first season. He rarely went to parties, and she was almost as rarely in her own home or her grandmother's. Her short hair curled about her face. In spite of her paint she looked like a child—a greedy child playing with life.

"Look here!" he said. "How far do you go?"

"Wouldn't you like to know?"

"I should. Not for personal reasons, for girls of your age bore me to extinction, but you've a certain sociological interest. I wonder if you are really any worse than your predecessors?"

"I guess girls have always been human enough, but we have more opportunities. We've made 'em. This is our age and we're enjoying it to the limit. Go on. What stupid times girls must have had—some of them do yet. They're naturally goody-goody, or their parents are too much for them. Not many, though. Parents have taken a back seat."

"I don't quite see what you get out of it—guzzling, and smoking your nerves out by the roots, and making yourselves cheap with men little older than yourselves."

"You don't see, I suppose, why girls should have their fling, or—her voice wavered curiously—why youth takes naturally to youth. I suppose you think that's a cruel thing for a girl to say."

"Not in the least," he answered cheerfully. "Don't mind a bit. But what do you get out of it—that's what I'm curious to know."

She tossed her head and blew a perfect ring. "Don't you know that girls never really enjoyed life before?"

"It depends upon the point of view," I should think."

"No, there's a lot more in it than you guess. The girls used to sit around waiting for men to call and wondering if they'd condescend to show up at the next dance; while the men fairly raced to get a girl with whom they could have a free and easy time—no company manners, no chaperons, no prudish objections about kisses and things. No fear of shocking if they wanted to let go—the strain must have been awful."

THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER
(Established 1873)

ELECTION LAWS REFERRED
The Governor has called for a vote on the election laws at the presidential primary on March 18, and voters of the state will have in them a matter for serious consideration and action.

The laws having been enacted by the legislature and referred to a vote of the people by filing of referendum petitions, it was proper that the chief executive should submit them to a vote at the earliest opportunity without the burden of expense of an extra election. This opportunity is the presidential primary of March 18.

The Tribune's attitude on the place of party responsibility in our system of government and its estimate of the effect of the laws in this regard is too well known for repetition at this time. As a newspaper, The Tribune will seek to lay before its readers the question and the arguments both for and against the laws so that the voters may reach their decision after mature deliberation. They are the final arbiters in this question, which is an important one, and it is to be hoped that the question will merit their most serious study.

NOT LIKELY TO SUCCEED

It is only natural that the Democrats in Washington should utilize the Teapot Dome oil inquiry as the basis for a frontal attack upon Mr. Coolidge, who has been found to wear few weak places in his political armor. It is, however, rather more convincing of his political eagerness than of his fears for the country's safety, that one reads the loose words of Cordell Hull, chairman of the Democratic National committee. Perhaps Mr. Hull depends greatly upon the short memory of the voter, whom he doubtless hopes will not contrast the war fraud scandals of the Wilson administration with the oil muddle.

President Coolidge has lost no time going to the heart of the Teapot Dome situation. There has been no hesitancy upon his part of placing the full force of the government behind the most searching investigation. He did not mince words. He merely announced he would select two eminent lawyers, one from the Republican and one from the Democratic party, to investigate with a view of bringing criminal action. Certainly there is no evidence that the President intends to fail in his duty; rather there is displayed again the incisive determination of the President to punish wrong doing.

It was, also, only natural that the Democrats in the Senate should immediately train their guns on Mr. Denby, with a view of embarrassing the President. Mr. Coolidge is in a rather trying situation. Secretary Denby is not his own cabinet appointee, but was the appointee of Mr. Harding. Doubtless he will not feel as free to act with either Mr. Denby or Mr. Daugherty as he would with his own appointees. There has been nothing produced thus far that tends to show that Mr. Denby was culpable.

The country will expect both Mr. Denby and Mr. Daugherty, however, to sacrifice themselves rather than to become a load on the shoulders of the President, should the situation proceed to a point where it appears that they are an embarrassment regardless of their culpability.

ANCIENT EGYPT

Those ancient Egyptian undertakers certainly stowed King Tut's mummy away where it was hard to reach. Months of effort, tunneling in, breaking through masonry walls, then penetrating to the inside of an elaborate series of coffins inside coffins.

Maybe you wonder why Tut was hidden so intricately. The answer is: The Egyptians believed that the soul, after death, transmigrated into a series of lives as beasts, birds and fishes. After 3000 years, the soul was supposed to return to its original human body provided that body still remained undestroyed.

King Tut's mummy has started a lot of interest in ancient Egypt. The conversation usually winds up with the pyramids and the unanswered mystery of why these tremendous stone structures were built.

The Arabians of long ago believed that the pyramids were erected by King Saurid, before the Noah's Ark Flood, as a refuge for him, his favorites and his court records.

Josephus, writing in the year 71, said the pyramids were built by the Jews during their captivity in Egypt.

One theory is that the pyramids were constructed as observation places for astronomers. Another notion is that they were temples to various Egyptian gods, or monuments to kings.

Aristotle's theory, which has the most followers, was that the pyramids were built "to keep the people well employed and poor," because "it suits tyranny to reduce its subjects to poverty, that they may not be able to compose a guard; and that, being employed in procuring their daily bread, they may have no leisure to conspire against their tyrants."

If so, it was a sure-fire system. For Pliny recorded that it kept 860,000 slaves busy for 20 years building the Great Pyramid alone.

Modern industry reminds us, in some respects, of pyramid building.

BATTLE AGAINST LIQUOR

The battle against liquor is thousands of years old. In ancient Sparta the Helots (lowest grade of slaves) were kept beastly drunk to arouse in Spartan youths a feeling of disgust against the Helots. We find this in an ancient volume.

The best and cheapest booze cure would be to take a movie of a man, "in his cups" and show it to him when sober. It's a wonder the dry crowd have not used this idea in their propaganda, the same as "Ten Nights in a Barroom" was used in a former generation.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS
BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

"Put on your thinking caps, everybody," said the Riddle Lady. "I'm going to take a lot of thinking to-day to guess the new riddle I've made up."

"On ready!" said Nick. "So am I!" said Nancy. "So are we!" declared the Sprats and the Tuckers and the Tweedles and the Crooked Man and the Widow Grumpy and the Peter Peterses and everybody.

"All right," said the Riddle Lady. "Here we go: 'Like Jack's mate beanstalk, I grow very high. And so thin that my ribs are quite plain: But I've never yet managed to quite touch the sky. Or discover the giant's domain.'"

"But I look with great ease o'er your high garden wall, I can see in your window at night, And to lean on your chimney's no effort at all. So enormously great is my height."

"At house-cleaning time in the spring of the year, I have barrels and barrels of fun, For I help with the painting and scrubbing, my dear, And I'm in much demand till it's done."

"I help to hang swanings and tack on the screens, And see to it that curtains are straight; For cleaning the wall-papers I am the means, Oh, house-cleaning time is just great!"

"And as for adventures I've many a thrill: When I loudly the fire whistle blows, I rush like the wind and then bravely stand still, While the firemen climb up with the hose."

"Sometimes I have two legs and often I've four, But I boast of no muscle at all, Divided I stand when I'm set on the floor, But united I'd be sure to fall."

"Though high, I am lowly, I'd ne'er raise my eyes To positions of honor and fame, In the world I have helped many people to rise, But they all step on me just the same."

"I'll bet you I know what it is," cried Wee Willie Winkie. "Because when I run around the town at night sometimes I have to have one to reach the children's windows and tell them it's bedtime. It's a ladder."

"Yes, sir!" nodded the Riddle Lady. "That's right. And you get the prize. A new magic ladder of your own."

INCOME TAX

STATE INCOME TAX LAW

Following is one of a series of articles covering provisions of the state income tax law prepared by the state tax department.

NO. 4.
COMPUTATION OF THE TAX
Under the amended income tax law of 1933 the rate of tax is graduated from one to six per cent. On the first $2,000 of taxable income the rate of tax is 1 percent.

On net income in excess of $2,000 above exemptions and not in excess of $4,000 the rate of tax is 2 percent.

On net income in excess of $4,000 above exemptions and not in excess of $6,000, the rate of tax is 3 percent.

On net income in excess of $6,000 above exemptions and not in excess of $8,000 the rate of tax is 4 percent.

On net income in excess of $8,000 above exemptions and not in excess of $10,000 the rate of tax is 5 percent.

On net income in excess of $10,000 above exemptions the rate of tax is 6 percent per thousand.

A single individual not the head of a family but having one person dependent upon him or her is entitled to an exemption of $1,300. In case such individual had a net taxable income amounting to $5,000, the computation of the tax would be as follows:

Net income	$5,000
Exemption	1,300
Amount of income subject to tax	3,700
1% on first $2,000	$20.00
2% on second $2,000	40.00
3% on $300	9.00
Total Tax	$69.00

In the case of a married individual living with husband or wife and having three children under the age of 18 years dependent upon him or her the age of 21 years in case the children are attending educational institutions, the exemption would be $2,000 for husband and wife and $300 for each additional dependent, making a total exemption of $2,900. In case such individual had a net income of $9,300 the computation of the tax would be as follows:

Total net income	$9,300.00
Exemptions	2,900.00
Amount of income subject to tax	6,400.00
1% on first $2,000	$20.00
2% on second $2,000	40.00
3% on third $2,000	60.00
4% on $400	16.00
Total Tax	$136.00

"Not a Drum Was Heard," the story by Ben Ames Williams, has been adapted for the screen by William Fox and will be shown at the Capitol theater for two days, opening tonight. Charles Jones has the leading role with Betty Bouton playing opposite him. The picture was directed by William Wellman and cast includes Frank Campeau, Rhody Hathaway, Al Freeman, William Scott and Mickey McLean. The story is typical of the old west and deals with a strong friendship between two cowboys, both in love with the same girl.

Owen Moore, one of the screen's foremost comedy and dramatic players, enacts the principal role in "Thundergate," a ten scene dramatic picture of Sidney Herschel. Small's novel "The Lord of Thundergate," which is showing at the Eltinge theater today and tomorrow.

In this picture Moore portrays a young American engineer, whose resemblance to a Chinese lord precipitates him in a series of adventures, exciting and romantic situations and finally wins him a white wife, who was forced on him when, through circumstances, he was compelled to take the place of the real lord.

Other well known film celebrities have had parts in this absorbing picture. They are Sylvia Breamer, Virginia Brown Faire, Robert McKim, Tully Marshall, Richard Cummings and Ynez Seabury.

Billy Evans Says

A year ago turf experts were singing the praises of Jockey Johnny Corcoran. The young man was the sensation of the New Orleans meet. His uncanny ability in putting over winners at long prices made him the most talked about youngster of the year. Followers of the turf played Corcoran rather than his mount and as a rule were well repaid. Johnny Corcoran is still riding, every now and then he comes home in front, but no longer does he win with the almost monotonous regularity that featured his career as an apprentice boy.

Jockey Ivan Parkie is the young man who is hogging the turf spotlight at present. Bringing home 173 winners out of 214 mounts won for him the riding championship of 1923.

What does the coming year hold forth for Parkie? Will he fade out, have many others after losing their apprentice allowance of five pounds? It is my recollection that Parkie won his first race March 9, 1923. Jockeys after winning their first race are given an allowance of five pounds every horse they ride for a year. Parkie is due to graduate from the apprentice class on March 9, 1924. From that date on he will be put to the big test. It will be up to him to demonstrate whether he is a real rider, or whether the five-pound allowance was the advantage that enabled him to bring home so many winners last year.

Despite Parkie's remarkable success which earned for him the riding honors of 1923, and the fact that he has

THE ART OF "SMOKING UP" FIGHTS

Jeffries Wouldn't Help Firpo Much But He Would Fire Fans' Imagination

This picture carries you back to 1910 when Jeffries fought Johnson at Reno, Nev. You see James J. Corbett, a former champion, working out with Jeffries. The picture is a reproduction of a painting by a famous artist. It shows Jeffries in a boxing stance, with Corbett standing behind him, possibly coaching him. The scene is set in a gymnasium with other people in the background.

Corbett Smoked It Up
Jeffries, right, speaks for itself. He left, though, as he is to perform with greater credit against Dempsey when they meet again in the most developed of all boxing skills with it. Whether Jeffries, as a teacher, would do him any good is a question. Jeff's presence in the training camp, however, would stir the fans' imagination.

Lord Byron, Singing Umpire, Will Again Cater To Eastern Baseball Fans

Bill Byron, one of the few unique figures among umpires, is to return to the field again. For a number of years Byron has been umpiring in the Pacific Coast League, going to the west coast of the United States to umpire the games. He is a well-known figure in the baseball world, and his return to the field is a great disappointment to many fans.

Byron is known as the "Singing Umpire" because of his habit of singing while he umpires. He is a well-known figure in the baseball world, and his return to the field is a great disappointment to many fans.

Will Young Lott Be Next Wonder Of The Courts
By NEA Service.
Chicago, Feb. 1.—Who will be the next boy wonder in tennis? Vincent Richards, though still youthful, has passed on beyond the boy-wonder stage, and the setting is all arranged for the appearance of another phenomenon.

At present the most formidable junior player in the country appears to be George Lott of Chicago, who was both the city and tournament national junior title last summer. Lott has a wide assortment of strokes, superb physical qualifications and a splendid competitive temperament.

The young Chicagoan stands at No. 1 position in the national junior ranking.

A. C. CAGERS WIN AGAIN

Southern City, N. D., Feb. 1.—North Dakota Agricultural college cagers closed their tour of the southern half of the North Central conference by administering a sound 45 to 18 drubbing to Morningside college here last night.

At no time in the game was the visiting quint headed and its baffling pass game kept Morningside on the defensive the greater part of the contest.

BATTLING SIKI IS OUTPOINTED

Minneapolis, Feb. 1.—Joe Lohman of Toledo outpointed Battling Siki, singular Senegalese, in their ten round contest here last night, according to morning newspaper.

LOVE LETTERS READ IN COURT

Coca Cola King Professed To Love Mrs. DeBouchel

Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 1.—Reading of letters said to have been written to Mrs. Onealini de Bouchel of New Orleans by Asa G. Candler, soft drink magnate of Atlanta, was expected to be continued today in the trial in United States District Court here of Mrs. de Bouchel's $500,000 breach of promise suit against Mr. Candler. Thirteen letters were read yesterday. These letters were dated in the spring of 1922 and following their first meeting in November, 1921, at a Confederate veterans' reunion held here. Candler corresponded with Mrs. de Bouchel for "culture and pastime."

Later in the spring another letter stated that Mr. Candler had investigated "the manner of woman" Mrs. de Bouchel was, and after ascertaining "from every available source" he learned of her excellency, good breeding and personal charm, he penned, "I unreservedly love you."

Then came the proposal which Mrs. de Bouchel, according to a letter from Mr. Candler accepted, after she had obtained a divorce from Adolpho Roquet in Reno, in September, 1921.

Attorneys estimated today that introduction of these letters and several depositions would complete the plaintiff's case which will probably come before the court recess late today.

The defense contended that Mrs. de Bouchel was legally married to Roquet at the time she became engaged to marry Mr. Candler.

Scored New Record For Season Early in Trading

Chicago, Feb. 1.—Wheat again scored a new high price record for the season, September rising to $1.10 1-4 soon after the opening. Later July as well as September surpassed the season's previous record. Absence of snow covering over most of the winter wheat belt was reported. The close was unsettled at the same as yesterday's finish to 5-8 cents higher, May $1.11 1-2 to $1.11 5-8 and July $1.10 1-2 to $1.10 5-8.

AN UNGRATEFUL COP.

London, Feb. 1.—If you call a taxi, you'd better wait for it. You'll have to pay your fare any way even if the driver is late and you leave before he arrives at your door. So ruled a magistrate here the other day in granting a chauffeur damages for a "dead trip." The defendant, a woman, pleaded she had to leave before the car got to her home. The driver, on the other hand, said he had been delayed by a traffic jam. And his argument proved more convincing.

3,500 FOOT BUTTES HELD N. D.'S HIGHEST

Marathon, N. D., Feb. 1.—The ridge of buttes in southwestern Bowman county, forming the watershed between the Little Missouri and Grand rivers just above the confluence of the Little Missouri and Box Elder rivers, with an altitude of 3,500 feet as established by the United States geological survey, would appear to be the highest point in North Dakota, according to the Marathon Mail.

The Mail says that the government table gives the altitude of the watershed as approximately 77 feet higher than Black Butte in Slope county, which of late years has been acclaimed the highest point in North Dakota. It is stated also that the Bowman watershed is 135 feet higher than Sentinel Butte in Golden Valley county which for a time was considered the highest peak in the state.

In discussing information available toward establishing the point of highest altitude the Mail says in part:

Data Question Raised.

"The Mail has never been able to get any positive information from the state engineering department on the matter of highest elevation, although several elevations have been taken by means of aneroid barometers, which to have claims upon."

"Recently, Mrs. Elizabeth Roberts in an article in The Fargo Forum, described Black Butte and referred to it as the highest point in North Dakota. She asserts that the official measurement establishes that point as 68 feet higher than Sentinel Butte."

"The district attorney moved for continuance over the present term of the case against Martin Holt and William Kimball of Minot, charged with conspiracy to violate the liquor laws; and also late case against David Ueland, former Knox, N. D. banker who is now living in Minot. Ueland is charged with infraction of the postal laws."

HIGH SCHOOL CONFERENCE DAYS ARE SET

Grand Forks, Feb. 1.—Four days, May 13, 15, 16, and 17, have been set aside for the annual state high school conference and contests at the University of North Dakota this year. Dean Joseph Kennedy, of the school of education at the university announced. Heretofore the program has been confined to three days.

FINE IMPOSED FOR FORGING U. S. ALLOTMENT

Minot, N. D., Feb. 1. Plea of guilty to a charge of forging government instruments, dismissal of two criminal actions, and continuance over the term of two others marked the opening of the second day's session of federal court in Minot.

A fine of $25 was imposed by Judge Miller on Frank Havlicek of Minot, cook in a local restaurant, who pleaded guilty to forging government instruments.

The defendant had cashed government allotment checks mailed to his father, also named Frank Havlicek, by a brother of the defendant who was serving with the American army in France.

When the brother returned from an assignment abroad he made false restitution. The checks were not cashed by the Minot man with intention of defrauding the brother or father of the money, defendant's counsel asserted.

The district attorney moved for continuance over the present term of the case against Martin Holt and William Kimball of Minot, charged with conspiracy to violate the liquor laws; and also late case against David Ueland, former Knox, N. D. banker who is now living in Minot. Ueland is charged with infraction of the postal laws.

TRANSFER IS ASKED IN CARPIO ROBBERY CASE

Minot, N. D., Feb. 1.—Transfer has been asked in Benville county district court here of the case of Ed King of Donnybrook, who is charged with robbery in connection with an assault upon and robbery of A. O. Hayden, aged Carpio farmer, several months ago. Opposing counsel have agreed that change of venue to Ward county will be satisfactory.

King was originally charged with assault with a dangerous weapon with intent to kill but this charge was dismissed at a preliminary hearing.

If a change of venue to Ward county is granted, the King case probably will be tried during the February term.

ELIMINATION OF CROSSINGS IS HARD JOB

Many Difficulties in Removal of Dangerous Railroad Crossings Cited

WORK IS GOING AHEAD

40 Grade Crossings To Be Abolished Under State Highway Commission Program

Both federal and state highway departments have reached the conclusion that railroad grade crossings must go as fast as they can be eliminated consistent with other factors, according to W. G. Black, chief engineer and secretary of the State Highway Commission. The program is being pushed as rapidly in North Dakota as possible.

In the construction of the state highway system of roads in conjunction with the Federal Government and the counties, there have been eliminated or will be during 1924, either by relocation or the construction of overhead bridges or underpasses 40 grade crossings in North Dakota. The elimination means, not only safety in lives but in many cases facilitation of transportation, it is held.

"The state highway department, realizing the danger to the traveling public where the highway crosses the railroad tracks at grades, has made a persistent effort in the reconstruction of the State Highway System to eliminate, wherever possible, these crossings," according to Mr. Black.

"The elimination of a grade crossing is quite a difficult undertaking," he continued. "It is not only difficult due to the engineering skill required, but also on account of local opposition to any change in the old road bed."

Frequently, in order to eliminate a grade crossing it is necessary to relocate a part of the highway, continuing on one side of a road until a cut is found of sufficient depth to cross over the railroad track by the use of a bridge, or a ravine of sufficient depth which will permit the construction of an underpass under the railroad track.

"The relocating frequently inconveniences someone who has constructed a home on the old road and not always do we find everyone broadminded enough to consider the welfare of the greater number of people when their personal interests are affected."

"In order to eliminate grade crossings, it is frequently necessary, where no suitable place for the construction of an overhead or an underpass can be found, to relocate the road entirely. This, of course, does not mean that the old road will be entirely abandoned as it will be maintained as formerly by the county or local sub-divisions responsible for its upkeep, and those living on this section of road will have the same advantages in the use of the road as formerly, but the mere fact that the main highway is to be constructed in another location and those traveling from one section of the state to another will be permitted by the elimination of the grade crossing to avoid the consequent dangers always incurred in crossing a railroad track at grades, immediately calls for opposition by those who live on the section of the old road."

The expenditure of money, required in changing such crossings also is often a detriment, according to Mr. Black.

POLICE PATROL TOKIO AND QUIET TENSE SITUATION

Tokio, Feb. 1.—Heavy police reserves are stationed at various strategic points throughout Tokyo last night following the tempestuous dissolution of the diet today. Unusual and thorough precautions are being taken to prevent the massing of governmental opposition elements.

Rallies of the government opposition forces, which earlier in the day succeeded in breaking up a session of the diet and throwing the legislative body into such confusion that its dissolution was ordered, were dispersed by the police. Several have been injured and a large number arrested the result of clashes between the police and demonstrators. The diet building is surrounded by double lines of police.

6-HOUR-DAY DEMAND LOST

United Mine Workers Defer Plea For Shorter Day

Indianapolis, Feb. 1.—Forces of the United Mine Workers of America were pledged by their delegates in convention here late yesterday to fight against any wage reduction, but elected at the same time to defer their demands for a shorter work day. The vote was overwhelming.

Opposition to the proposal for a renewal of the contract was started by insurgents who demanded a six-hour day and five-day week, but they weakened before the united front of all district presidents of the union, and the three international officers who pleaded for unanimity that "the integrity of the union may be preserved."

Oratory of President Frank Farrington of the Illinois district, chairman of the scale committee, vice president Philip Murray and Secretary William Green, beat down every argument of the insurgents. They represented that the union is not in condition to wage a fight for a shorter work day, that the public will not support such a demand, and that operators would welcome it.

KEEP KLUX BAN

Indianapolis, Feb. 1.—Attempts to strike out the ban against the Ku Klux Klan from the constitution of the Mine Workers and substitute a blanket clause against "any organization whose principles are detrimental to the United States government or the United Mine Workers" lost in the convention by a large majority.

WILL LAY OUT BIG TRACT

Dr. M. B. Gilmore, formerly curator of the State Historical Society, has been designated by the Museum of the American Indian, New York, to lay out an outdoor museum of about eight acres on valuable land in New York given by Archer Huntington, son of the late Collis P. Huntington, according to word received by friends here. Native plants grown in all parts of the country will make up the museum, part of which will be enclosed in green-houses. The idea is somewhat similar to that held by Dr. Gilmore for the development of the North Dakota state capitol grounds.

spokesmen for a number of civic and state organizations protected against Mr. Cox's removal.

Immediately after he had been notified of his selection, Mr. Conzel issued a brief statement, declaring he intended to carry out the policies formulated by Mr. Cox, and the latter, in a formal statement, paid tribute to Mr. Conzel's ability.

There were evidences that the executive session was not without its acrimony, for after voting against the ousting of Cox, W. M. Taber, board member from Park Rapids, announced that he "was through with the board and the whole business," indicating he would resign.

The vote to oust Cox was six to three and only one ballot was taken. Those who voted for the immediate ousting were W. B. Douglas, St. Paul, chairman; Otto Diercks, St. Paul; Al Kaiser, Bagley; H. G. Gearhart, Duluth; F. D. Vibert, Cloquet, and Haven Little, Kasson.
